“ It was before dawn - the house on the corner - Clacton-on-Sea across from the Church - the Marine Parade leading to Pier Avenue...I Andre Malraux heard a disturbance & found she had left the bottom of our beds where she slept- after the nightmare she had downstairs -

We, Jo & I, had two single beds tied together & Greet`ha was the little lion... at the foot of our Crusader Tomb ...

I found she had gone to the Garage at the end of that long garden... where the summer & winter vegetables were grown ...

She had got out a mop & a bucket. She had it raised...the mop. She told me she was washing the starry sky to find the stars that could not easily be seen.

She was to make for me a house - a special house from stardust & small stars ...& it would be for my MIND .

There was a certain amount of reluctance to explain fully...TO ME !

I learned it had to be secret & could be drawn but not spoken of ...

I would have it all my life once it was granted...to me ... ”
