a visit to the Gift Shop Pier Avenue full of everything nice & he selects a hat which I insist upon paying for

ADVICE of Granny Gordon Mary Helena as her youngest son Harry sometimes calls her when they speak upon Irish Parliament Doyl matters & the world of Southern Ireland, matters outside Essex.

Mary Helena has told me to help buy some things & pay for things as I am a guest this lengthened time. My white bag on a strap across my chest is kept full of notes by Uncle Harry & she ... She reminds me that Len & I hath income enough for the provision of our Apprentices Hostel for orphans at Holland-on-sea & our little engineering concern

...
& this young man has a good heart & risked his life in Spain
& the young lady with him .

I say outside the Gift Shop to Andre-George have a hat like Grandpa would wear before he went to Heaven my last birthday time ... Grandpa was tall too, & the Edwardian straw with his old school ribbon band of Dr Bell 's Academy Greenwich had him an old fashioned appearance...

& he was a comforting happy making sight to see ... for we all had much HORROR come to us from the seafront ... Monsters of the Deep on

I try convey this to Andre-Georges-Andrew- But he said he did not want to draw attention to himself & wanted something to hide under ...so chose a slinky tobacco coloured fine straw trilby as I had seen men wear in JEAN

s country South America the last two years our eight months away from HORRORS - & it only cost two shillings here at Clacton Gift Shop

..

He, Georges or Andre or Andrew ... to be called what we like now as he feels safe ... went around the hat stand out side the Gift Shop leaning this way and that like a sea Merman or even a delicate bull-rush on the marshes

trying the hats on before choosing

I was a little disappointed it was so cheap & a big slinky gangsters of the films up to something

...

If I said about seeing these hats in South America then he did not believe it was true but my going to the Movies & falling asleep as he now has experience of - but perhaps I say`th

it to myself for I am told to not worry him with my life when he must think & write again perhaps - he hath when she returns from holidays with cousins at St Annes Liverpool ...

1937 Summer - We arrived back from this afternoon of hee & mee VERY LATE & it was not known we had gone ON THE TOWN

I in a white frock & green coat-black patent shoes white socks-straw hat Granny Mary Helena has made me with some little daisies on it ...

... white bag on strap across my chest & full of money from Granny-Harry & Augusta-tha t-sweet-grey-girl a Frobisher who gives me a monthly little account for school things & such matters as this

JO did not mind - she was able to rest - write - & think what she will wear for The Dancing

The food will be described later - it is a very pleasant menu for late afternoon in summer -
& he liked me curtseying

CHARNAL HOUSE - Hearse Martyrs - Lennie & I sold this Pirn Mill to Uncle Grandison in

... MALRAUX should have recognised that his sons were being interfered with early on - REMOVING THEIR MEMORIES to interfere with their education - an old trick of penniless Noble Britain ... destroy the children & isolate the parents ... it is blood curdling what they were doing with drugs to harm those they could get money & lands from !

Both the Harrington (Mengele) pair were skilled at this ...

& all those who were tolerated in high circles in the 1920s onwards ...`

1957 November - St Edmund's House - ANDRE-George
