RANSOM GENEALOGY : We must go SAILING BACK in our CENTURIES to 77 AD ... I am going to write it again just as it comes from the Records ... the PROCESSION of us RANSOM can then be put into a correct line of our dates ... to try do that at this stage will *I am sure

... ..

... GAIUS RANSOM comes first to Britain - an ancestor we know a lot about ( a really First grandpa to all of us

he arriving up the Thames River to LONDINIUM 77 AD and not at all happy about what he has just experienced - a wedding amongst the relatives of his grandfather & father in JUTLAND

... It worried him & he found it all much too vulgar and given to extravagant feeding & drinking & in this celebration it went on non-stop for 2 whole weeks ...

he found them grossly overweight and eating and drinking to the point of vomiting ...

no libraries in the homes

... ` Why these JUTLAND relatives had no idea that the Roman world watered its strong SAMIAN RED wine often three parts water to one part wine ... A cooling pleasant drink when you are in the heat or have travelled a long way -

his world of ROMAN ORDER did not tip up great amphorae & drink away FAST

In his Roman Citizenship world to drink undiluted wine was FAST !

He Gaius Ransom is raised mainly in the Mediterranean & is a full citizen of the ROMAN EMPIRE ( his father too - & his grandfather perhaps a citizen of the ROMAN REPUBLIC ) his 2 will keep in touch with JUTLAND ... nd and 3rd cousins
and give succour to them ...
but he cannot live with them `...

NB: The EMPEROR NERO 54-68 AD left a mess towards the end of his reign and the next soldier Emperors got hardly a chance to do anything - GALBA , OTHO and VITELLIUS staying alive only 68-69 AD.

Then

VESPASIAN

another soldier Emperor

59 years of age

stayed alive and in 10 years 69-79 AD has given settled conditions by getting the finances of the Empire on even keel ...

Thus

GAIUS RANSOM sailing up the Thames to Londinium 77 AD is living in somewhat peaceful times -

Roman administration is excellent ... & their road works

still in use in the 20

th

century AD ...

1960 - Dr John RAY Ransom has added to our knowledge of GAIUS - in 1941 to 1960 he has been able to call on fellow Academics and they have verified GAIUS =

“ ... he is not rich but has sufficient and has had a Post in Palestine for Roman administration - he went with the son of another line of his father. They do not go much for surnames in those times ...
he has Roman citizenship - excellent Latin tongue and other languages, certainly Arabic
... some of his family have been out in Egypt trading for years perhaps a century or more and his family and others have held Posts for Roman Administration around the Mediterranean shores for some years as well as being Traders ... ”

“ ... We have known about them coming out of Jutland for sometime into the Mediterranean Egypt and the Roman world - they seem to have been out there for a hundred and fifty years ... got a good reputation ... THIS IS HIM ! ... who comes to LONDINIUM - there is no difficulty proving this is him ... I have added to the records of your FATHER ... he gathered them from the vast RANSOM Archives - which appear to have been STOLEN late 1930s for a woman who is known as ANGELA ... ”

“ We have been able to add this to the Family records and publications ... and the work your father has done with professional genealogists since he was 12 years old ... ”

My father Frederick John RANSOM because of his Genealogy work is invited to visit ... to walk upon the levels where his first ancestor GAIUS RANSOM would have walked ...

... “ ... FEELING SOMETIMES WITH OUR FINGERS HIS VERY TOUCH UPON THE STONES ? ...” King of Asine - Poem by George SEFRIS Greek poet & Diplomat ...

I will write a few more of the lines of the poem by SEFRIS for his work perhaps conveys

the feeling of walking amongst our past, our ancestors ... these lines below are taken from the entire poem translated into ENGLISH by REX WARNER published The Bodley Head June 1960

. . . .

... I think George SEFRIS, his ghost/ his antique `shade` , will not mind my using his poems .... as in the London

winter of January 1954 he insisted he loan

Georges-

ANDRE MALRAUX

legal GUARDIAN to GROTE HOMES & RANSOM ESTATE in 3 Parts )

a warm winter hat when SEFRIS

the Poet-diplomat learned at breakfast in Upper Brook Street London that we were going down to the ancient city of

Roman Britain SORBIODUNUM

and SEFRIS said he knew the Salisbury Plains to be very cold in winter & it was ridiculous to not protect your head.

I am reminded that he wrote many of his poems originally in French ... or Greek ... they converse in French ... MALRAUX can manage some of the ancient Greek tongue ...

“ All that morning we looked at the citadel from every angle .

... no living creature ; ... the King of Asine, our quest for two years now, unknown, forgotten by everyone ...

An emptiness beneath the mask ... everywhere with us, everywhere with us, beneath a name ... his children statues ...

In the dawn calm of the sea, and you are watching it ... an emptiness everywhere with us
...

And the poet lingers, looks at the stones and asks himself : Do they still exist, then, Am ong these broken lines, edges, points, hollows, curves,

Do they still exist

Here at the meeting place of rain, wind, ruin.

Do they exist, the movement of the face

The form and fashion of the tenderness

Of those who so strangely have dwindled in our life ...

Or no, perhaps what remains is only the weight,
the craving for the weight of a living creature ...

...for whom with such great care We searched as we went about this acropolis, FEELING sometimes with our fingers HIS very touch upon the stones ... ?
